

San Diego FAA Safety Team presents:

CFI Open Forum - Teaching Decision Making and Risk Mitigation

Aeronautical Decision Making and Risk Mitigation go hand in hand. Instructors must learn to assess students on a different level. How did a student arrive at a particular decision? What resources were used? Was risk assessed accurately when a go/no-go decision was made? What can instructors do to mitigate risk? Join your flight instructor colleagues to share best practices with respect to sound Aeronautical Decision Making and Risk Mitigation Strategies. Click on the link below to see all the details and register TODAY!

Our presenter John Andersen, was a CFI in Orange County and rose to UPS International Chief Pilot after spending years as a Simulator Instructor / Check Airman and UPS Test / Acceptance pilot. He performed some contracting to NASA as a simulator evaluation pilot flying the latest concepts regarding single pilot air transport operations and the latest FMS software in their Moffett Field advanced simulator. He has worked with Embry Riddle Aeronautical University teaching airline and air cargo management. John believes in and promotes the message to CFI's to practice "Relentless Professionalism" and he will tie CFI professionalism to student
